It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

Now consists of five steamers, all constructed for, and specially adapted to the harbor work, such as the landing of passengers, parcels, and baggage, and for towage and special trips in the harbor, or to Colonia, Tigre, the Islands, or, in fact, to any more distant point.

It will be the Manager's special endeavour to give entire satisfaction to those who may employ the steamers, and, as he can scarcely believe any one will hesitate between sail and steam, when the tariff is about the same, he may reasonably expect a good portion of the harbor work.

One of the steamers will leave the Mole daily at 7 a.m., and one will remain in the Outer Roads, for the accommodation of Ship Captains arriving.

The Steamers will always be ready by Day or Night, and the terms are about the same as the whaleboat tariff.

THE AMAZONE MAILS.

The French packet has brought dates from Lisbon to Dec. 27th and Rio Janeyro 15th inst. The general tenor of advices is more favorable to France. It seems the Prussians are now concentrating their forces around Paris, and General Moltke has called for 200,000 more men of the Landwehr. A letter from Berlin says:—'Every "body must be astonished at the mi- "litary power of Prussia; the last "batch of 90,000 recruits was a splen- "did body of men with new uniforms "and equipments, each with his nee- "dle-gun. It is thought they will be "sent to the fortresses of Germany to "relieve the various garrisons ordered "to the seat of war. In a few days "100,000 more Prussians will be "marching into France. How little "the French thought they had such "an enemy to face when they declar- "ed war."

The Petit Moniteur says:—'We ought to send a strong army into the Vosges to make the enemy fall back on Alsace and Lorraine, instead of allowing them to over-run the rich provinces of Picardy, Normandy and Orleans. It would also hamper their communications from the Rhine to the army besieging Paris.

King William says in an order of the day:—'We have entered on a new phase of the campaign. All the efforts of the garrison of Paris to break our lines have failed. The armies advancing from all sides have been repulsed.'

The Bordeaux papers talk of new efforts by England for peace, and of another journey by M. Thiers.

The deputation which offered King William the Imperial crown made a very flattering speech on the occasion. The new German Empire will in many respects resemble the U. States of America, having an Emperor instead of a President: each State will preserve its own independence and a distinct revenue.

The English papers in general condemn the attitude of Mr. Gladstone's cabinet on the questions of Luxemburg and the Black Sea. The Standard says—"If it is true that Earl Granvil- "le has replied to Bismark as he did "to Gortchakoff it may be affirmed that "Great Britain has abdicated her po- "sition of a first-class European pow- "er." The Luxemburg deputies have protested against the Prussian pretensions. Prussia is now resolved to annex Alsace, Lorraine and Luxemburg, even if neutral powers condemn it. The German papers say "Prussia can listen to no foreign interference in such matters; the security of Germany is at stake."

The new King of Spain is acclaimed as Amadeus Ist. Topete and several other Deputies will resign. Several military promotions will take place on the King's arrival at Madrid.

Great quantities of arms arrive daily in French ports from America and England; the Prussian Government has got tired protesting against this as a breach of neutrality.

The King of Prussia's telegram says that in the engagement which resulted in the occupation of Vendome on Friday last 6 guns were captured and 1 mitrailleuse.

The fighting previous to the occupation of Vendome was very severe, extending northward, through Pezou and Freteval, in the direction of Chateaudun.

The Germans occupied the left bank of the Loir, not the Loire, with artillery, General Chanzy having previously destroyed the bridges of the river.—This, however, did not prevent a pursuit by General Von der Tann and his Bavarians on Saturday, who followed the French nearly half way from Vendome to Le Mans, and coming up with them at Epuisay, a short distance from St. Calais, captured a number of prisoners and occupied Epuisay. The Germans on the left side of the Loire, since the occupation of Blois, appear to have marched northwards again.—Leaving a strong post at Pontlevoy, a short distance from Montrichard, they have now their advanced posts at Chaumont-sur-Tharanne and La Motte Beuvron, with their faces towards Orleans.

An engagement has taken place at Droue, west of Chateaudun, in which a German column sent from Chatres claims a victory over six French battalions.

With the approach of Christmas, rumours of peace negotiations are again abroad. It is stated that efforts are once more being made for the assembly of a Congress with a view to the termination of the war. A Berlin correspondent asserts that an informal meeting has already taken place between the diplomats, at the official residence of Count Beust, in Vienna. The rough draft of the peace treaty sketched includes the annexation of Luxemburg to Germany, the payment by France of a war indemnity of about fifty millions sterling, the cession of a small slip of Alsace, and the razing of two frontier fortresses.

The French representative is said to have declared that France would rather pay more money than cede even a few square miles of territory. Two deputies of the North German Parliament—one of whom, Herr Liebknecht, spoke strongly against the plans of German agression at the recent sitting of the Parliament—have been arrested at Liepsic on the charge of high treason. The Wurtemburg Chambers were opened yesterday with a strong unity speech from the throne.

The Germans have not yet commenced the bombardment of Paris, notwithstanding the reports circulated during the last few days. Indeed, the Germans can hardly be ready, for ammunition is still being forwarded from Berlin. The Bordeaux journals speak of a new insurrectionary movement in Paris by MM. Gustave Flourens and Blanqui, which has ended in the death of the second and the re-incarceration of the first. The news is given with reserve, and is not confirmed by the official advices.

A strenuous denial is still given to the report that the King of Holland has made an arrangement with Prussia concerning the Duchy of Luxemburg, either for its concession, or for its federal existence under some German prince at present without a throne. It is, however, stated, upon the best authority, that Prussia has never designed that her protest shall at present go beyond the prevention of the acts complained of. It is not the intention of Prussia to annex Luxemburg—only put a stop to the proceedings of M. Cussy; the question of the indemnity to be paid for injuries already suffered being reserved for future consideration. Luxemburg, however, as has already been stated, denies the truth of the allegations made by Prussia; and this denial was emphasized at the sitting of the Luxemburg Chamber yesterday.

At Saturday's sitting of the Spanish Chamber of deputies, questions were asked as to the absence of Signor Olozaga from his post as Minister in France. It was explained that France had no Minister in Madrid, and that the Spanish Government which had recognised the Government of National Defence, had not recognised the French Republic. The date of the entry of the King at Madrid was fixed; and the Minister of Finance, who had not a particularly encouraging task, made his statement, announcing a really portentous deficit.

At yesterday's sitting of the Dutch Chamber of Deputies, a motion pledging the Government not to refrain from attempting to re-establish the temporal sovereiguty of the Pope was withdrawn; a second, declaring that it is not the mission of Holland to take action in the matter, was rejected by 42 to 32; while a third, simply approving the conduct of the Government, was adopted by 39 to 35 votes.

The Royal Irish Academy and Trinity College, Dublin, have got into a curious controversy with the authorities of the University of Gottingen. In perfect good faith, they invited their German brethren to join them in advocating the exemption of Paris, 'as a centre of culture,' from bombardment. Gottingen demurred at once to the claims of Paris to exemption, alleging that Paris, so far from being exclusively devoted to culture, had urged on many barbarous wars. The Gottingen authorities subsequently turned aside from the main point to indulge in reflections upon English neutrality and other awkward matters.

The Moscow Town Council has unconsciously enlightened Europe as to the value of those enthusiastic addresses forwarded to the Emperor of Russia in reference to the repudiation of the Treaty of 1856. The Council appended to its address a petition asking the Czar to add to other blessings he has conferred upon his subjects liberty of the press and a religious toleration. The address has been returned 'with a reprimand.'

Parliament will, it is reported, meet on the 7th of February, and, as soon as possible, will be asked to approve estimates designed to increase the efficiency of the naval and military forces of the country.

The Lord Mayor yesterday dismissed the summons against Sir William Russell, Bart., charging him with unlawfully obtaining goods on credit within a period of four months before his bankruptcy.

The trial of several directors of the Monarch Insurance Company, on the charge of issuing a prospectus containing untrue statements, was commenced yesterday in the Court of Queen's Bench.

Yesterday afternoon the ship John Fyfe, of New York, which arrived in the Prince's Dock on Tuesday last, with upwards of 2,000 bales of cotton, was found to be on fire. At the time the fire was dsicovered there were about 350 bales of cotton still on board, the greater part of which was destroyed.

RUSSIAN PREPARATIONS FOR WAR.

A correspondent at St. Petersburg affirms that although both in official and other circles everyone there agrees that all danger of war is over, Russia is arming as if an enemy were at her doors. The south-eastern provinces have for some time been occupied by large bodies of troops, which have been supplied with all the requisites for a long campaign; but the chief attention of our military administrators is now directed to Poland. The fortresses of Luck, Demblin, Breso, and Modlin are being rapidly strengthened and armed with Krupp's cannon; strict orders have been given to watch those of the inhabitants who took part in the last insurrection, and an extraordinary levy of three per cent. of the population has been ordered, with the object, apparently, of clearing the country of as many of its able-bodied inhabitants as possible.

The Russian Government knows well that Poland is its weakest point, both on account of her open frontier and her discontented population, and it has taken its measures accordingly. Notwithstanding the loyal addresses which have been pouring in from all quarters, the new military law is anything but popular; it not only affects the nobles, but also the merchant class, which is just now very influential. Hitherto the traders of the first and second guilds have been practically exempt from military service. In 1739 they were permitted to send peasants to the army as their substitutes, and in 1776 Catherine II. went a step further, and enabled any trader to purchase exemption by a single payment of 300 roubles (afterwards increased to 500). Finally Alexander I., to a certain extent, abolished this payment also, by giving the rank of honorary noble (potchetni grazdanin) to all traders of the first and second guilds who have been honestly engaged in commerce for 20 years.

In certain cases this rank was made hereditary, and the trader thus obtained exemption not only for himself but also for his descendants—a privilege which in Russia is universally regarded as so valuable that its abolition has naturally caused much discontent. There are 894,196 men in Russia who under the new law lose this privilege, and supposing that 5 per cent. only of them are called in for service yearly, this will in a few years constitute an addition of 65,000 drilled soldiers to the Russian army.

THE RELEASE OF THE FENIAN CONVICTS.

The following letter has been sent by Mr. Gladstone to Sir William Carroll, late Lord Mayor of Dublin, whose name was the first of those attached to a very numerously signed petition presented to the Prime Minister by Mr. M'Carthy Downing, M.P.:

Downing-street, Dec. 16, 1870.

Gentlemen, I have to inform you that her Majesty's Government have carefully considered the case of the convicts now undergoing their sentences for treason and treason-felony, and that they have recommended to the Crown the exercise towards them of the Royal clemency, so far as it is compatible with the assured maintenance of tranquillity and order in the country.

They will, therefore, be discharged, upon the condition of not remaining in, nor returning to, the United Kingdom.

These prisoners were most justly condemned for participation, either secretly or by open violence, in a conspiracy which, if in any degree successful, would have filled Ireland with misery and bloodshed; and the same principles of justice which dictated their sentences would amply sanction prolongation of their imprisonment, if the public security demanded it.

It is this last question, therefore, which has formed the subject of careful examination by her Majesty's Government, and they have been able to come to the conclusion that under existing circumstances of the country, the release of the prisoners, guarded by the condition which I have stated, will be perfectly compatible with the paramount interests of public safety, and, being so, will tend to strengthen the cause of peace and loyalty in Ireland.

There happily appears to be a concurrence of circumstances favourable to such an exercise of the Royal prerogative of mercy.

Ireland is at present remarkably prosperous, and generally free from turbulence or disorder. Its quiet condition shows a most marked improvement upon that which prevailed a year ago. Since that time Parliament has again proved, as it had done in the previous session, its readiness to confront the most difficult questions of Irish legislation with a view to sincere reforms and effectual remedies, while it has not failed to maintain the authority of the law by conferring special and necessary powers upon the Irish Government.

These things have swelled the numbers and strengthened the hands of that great body of men of all parties and creeds representing the property, intelligence, and religion of Ireland which is on the side of order and loyalty, while they have weakened the powers of disaffection and revolution.

The earnest desire of her Majesty's Ministers is to act in all things so as to favour the advance of this healing process, and it is because they believe that the release of the convicts now suffering under sentences of imprisonment for treason and treason-felony will assist in this work that they have arrived at their present decision.

That decision, they are well aware, is in accordance with strong opinions and compassionate feelings very widely prevalent in Ireland, but happily not displaying themselves in any popular agitation or any turbulent demands, such as would render compliance inconsistent with the due authority of Government, or afford to the evil-disposed an excuse, of which there cannot now be a shadow, to misrepresent an act which is one of pure clemency on the part of the Queen—I have the honour to be, gentlemen, your very faithful servant,

W. E. GLADSTONE.

LATEST FROM AMERICA.

New York, Dec. 15.

Mr. Charles Francis Adams, the former American Minister in London, in a speech before the Historical Society, advised moderation on the part of the United States regarding the Alabama claims, and depreciated the efforts of certain politicians to lead the country into war.

The New York World, commenting on the speech, condemns the bellicose vagaries of General Butler, and urges the Government, in pressing the American claims in respect to the fishery question, not to lay punctilious stress on political etiquette, or to require humiliating concessions of Great Britain.

The Tribune says that the existing dormant war between Great Britain and the United States should terminate, the bitterness and resentment here having greatly died out, and Great Britain showing a willingness to discuss the question of the Alabama claims on a basis more compatible with American honour.

Regarding the fisheries, the Tribune says that serious men recognise the sinister aspect of the question, but it hopes that Great Britain will act promptly upon a vigorous reclamation.

The Washington correspondents of The New York Herald, World, and several other journals state that Mr. Boutwell will soon resign.

LONDON LETTER.

London, Dec, 19th, 1870.

The general position of affairs is much the same as the date of my last letter via Bordeaux (14th inst.), and a glance at a column or two of telegrams will give you the news, but I am certain you will make nothing of the mere facts recorded, for we who are closer to the scene of events are sorely puzzled.

There are at least two things which stand out in relief. One is the decided improvement in the prospects of a successful defence in France; and the other is that whether wisely or no the British Government has managed to postpone all active and armed interference in Europe, either on account of the Black Sea or the Luxembourg question.

In regard to the latter, the substance of Lord Granville's reply to Count Bismarck has been made known by the Times. The tone of the reply is conciliatory; and after the Cabinet Council held on Saturday last the Ministers dispersed each one to his family Christmas gathering; and no further Councils will be held until January! The amazing coolness of the Government is inexplicable on any other grounds than they are in possession of Count Bismarck's secrets, and of other information which they do not condescend to make public. It is fair to the ministry to suppose that the public apprehensions in regard to a serious alliance for future aggressive purposes between Russia and Germany are without foundation. One thing is evident.

The serious outcry which was raised in England on receipt of the telegrapic reports of Count Bismarck's note to the Grand Ducal Government of Luxemburg, was wholly mistaken as far as the present bearing of that note was concerned. It seems that according to the text of the note, Count Bismarck complained of a breach of neutrality on the part of Luxemburg, and threatened that in a military point of view the North German Government would not be bound to respect the neutrality of the Ducal territory, if the exigencies of war required the German troops to pass through it. But there was no immediate question of threatening the political independence of Luxemburg as settled by the collective guarantee of 1867. According to the wording of the treaty of that date, and according to the statement made in the House of Commons by Lord Stanley, England alone would not be called upon to interfere. Our Government can therefore enjoy its mince pies in peace until the conference meets in London, and Parliament opens. By that time it is more than probable the Germans, finding that Paris is likely to hold out for many weeks, and that M. Gambetta's resistance is more serious than they expected, will relax in their demands and that an armistice, which is again spoken of to-day in certain political circles, will bring this ruthless and disgraceful war to a termination.

Our Government has had a hard task to steer clear between the conflicting sympathies and opinions this war has created in England. On the one hand we have the Court and higher mercantile classes strongly in favour of Germany. On the other we have the French Imperial sympathies of the Conservatives, which now for consistency's sake cling to the French cause. The Conservatives oddly enough find themselves in the same ranks with the London democrats and republicans who opposed the French Empire, and would now drag us into a war with the Germans for the sake not only of the French Republic but of German republicans, who are being arrested right and left in their own fettered fatherland. A great democratic meeting was held in Trafalgar Square on Saturday evening to urge the British Government to interfere in favour of France; and some of the papers, notably the Morning Advertiser, which, since the retirement of Mr. Grant, is edited by Colonel Alfred Bates Richards, openly insist on the same policy. Between these extremes is the philosophic and humanitarian radicalism represented by the Fortnightly Review, the only publication one can read in these times without nausea. The new radicalism is militant. It will fight with all the strength and savageness of Englishmen for a cause more comprehensive than Canada fisheries or Black Sea neutrality. Some such cause is likely enough enveloped in the actual political mystifications in Europe, but it is not yet clearly defined. All we see is the semi-asiatic policy of the Pomeranian Bismark, and the superciliousness of a President Grant, who writes private letters to the Czar. We have yet to find if these worthies really represent the pretended civilization of their respective countries. If they do, whether France be with her or against her, old England, erring sinner as she has been, will put on her armour for the cause of common decency and international morality.

The military position in France, you will see, is not much altered. General Chauzy is north of the Loire, and holding his own, with the apparent intention of being joined by the Army of Brittany and the forces at Le Mans. Bourbaki is supposed to be strong in the neighbourhood of Bourges or Nevers, to the S. E. of Orleans. Meantime the Duke of Mecklenburg and Prince Frederick Charles have pushed on to Blois, between the two French armies, and threaten both.

Of the operations against Bourbaki we have heard nothing. The only serious engagement that has taken place since my last letter was at Vendome, on the 14th, without any great advantage on either side. General Chauzy has since continued his movements in a westerly direction.

General Manteuffel has apparently abandoned his idea of taking Havre, which city showed signs of a powerful resistance not to be overcome without the aid of siege trains, which the Germans did not possess. The French in Havre have even taken the offensive. It is supposed Manteuffel is in retreat eastward, to watch the movements of the French Army of the North, under General Faidsherbe, who is rapidly marching southward.

Unless the Germans gain quickly some advantage much more serious than it now appears they gained at Orleans their position is likely to be critical. It is very clear that they are not yet quite ready to bombard Paris, and their line of investment has lately been extended and weakened. They will no doubt make some effort to impress the Parisians with the hopelessness of the struggle; but, if recent accounts from Paris are at all to be credited, the people inside are in the best position.

Formerly we looked for German successes to send up the Funds. I am beginning to think we shall soon look for French successes for the same object, as the Germans are not now in a position to conclude the war on their terms. The Times and the wise folk are perhaps again, for the hundredth time wrong. Dr. Russell, the grand 'special' at Versailles, is at all events changing his tune.

STATE OF THE B. ORIENTAL.

Mercedes, Jan. 17, 1871.

The doctrine that "Rebellion is the most sacred of duties" seems to prevail in most of the River Plate provinces, and in none has its practice been more rigidly observed than in the Banda Oriental, where the present movement is assuming a magnitude and character that calls for more than ordinary attention. Aparicio and Goyo Suarez are each at the head of a large army of freebooters, who possess all the elements that can render them dangerous to a country, and contemptible to an enemy. Since the battle of the Sauce small bands of official bandits have sprung up on every side, animated by a most enthusiastic love of plunder. Life and property are more than ever imperilled. As usual assassination has become the precursor of promised reforms, the prelude to improvements that we are never to witness. In this neighborhood murders have been perpetrated with breathless rapidity, some attended with circumstances of inventive and disgusting cruelty. The loss to foreign property has been immense, but is, I apprehend, as nothing to what the future will bring without intervening occurrences. For it is certain that the revolution can be prolonged indefinitely. On the one hand a forced currency of base coin and paper money will afford subsistence and license to those grave and reverend senators in Montevideo, each of whom, when he entered the Government, possesssed a stock in trade no richer than Romeo's apothecary. On the other hand the rebels will find ample resources in our cattle and sheep, and by converting part into currency can, like their adversaries, recruit their ranks from the sweepings of Europe. In view of this state of things what is the conduct of the foreign ministers, of those who must render an account of their stewardship to their respective governments? Some look on with a pathetic indifference, and some have raised a feeble and half muttered protest. I have been told to forward my claim for recent losses to our minister in your city. I shall do so, but not in the hope that it will command attention. Seven years ago, during the Flores revolution, in common with others I presented a claim at the Consulate. On enquiring a short time since if same had been paid, I was instructed that those claims had not yet been officially made. I was also informed that the Montevidean Government had promised the moment the revolution is over to settle all claims that may have arisen out of it. So that it appears, if they are "poor in thanks" to us, they are, at least, rich in promises to our minister. I shall not waste your time in proving the utter worthlessness of such promises. Why, there could not be found in Montevideo a chapman who would take the word of the whole Assembly for his wares. This procrastination has been fatal—to it may be ascribed, in no trivial degree, our heavy losses in the present revolution. But, for my own part, I am tired of diplomacy with all its mediations, conferences, &c. What estancieros would wish to see is an intelligible policy loudly proclaimed, and boldly pursued. Prevention is better than cure.

The Foreign Ministers should frankly address themselves to the task of prevention. It has been said, and said by a former Chargé d'Affaires in Montevideo, that as we had chosen to come out to such a country, and lived in the camp, we did not merit British protection. Never was a more gross and imperfect fallacy countenanced by a person of education and reflection. Estancieros are just as much entitled to the respectful consideration of their respective ministers as merchants in a city. And what would be the consequence if a number of official bandits and assassins were to burst into some English store in Buenos Ayres and throw its contents into the street, and, perhaps, make a bonfire of the merchant's prints and cloths to celebrate one of their shadowy victories? The whole commercial community would be in arms in a moment. The British Minister's nerves would become highly sensitive; he would boil over with indignation, and forthwith announce: "Desperate revenge, and battle dangerous to less than gods!"

Where lies the difference? The cattle and sheep of the estancieros represent capital and industry as well as the prints and cloths of the merchant. The result of this faulty policy is inevitable: we shall be cajoled and plundered out of half of what we possess, while our minister will force his Government at some future time to play the ungracious part of a harsh creditor, compelling payment from a bankrupt debtor.

I said "at a future time," for these claims will be enforced, if not in the present century, perhaps in the next; if not for the benefit of our children, perhaps for that of our grand-children.

AN ENGLISH ESTANCIERO.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The French mail steamer Amazonas arrived in port yesterday morning, and her mails were delivered in the forenoon. The cutting of the Lisbon cable causes the commercial news by this packet to be scanty, at least as regards very latest quotations of the English markets.

We publish to day a letter from our Special Correspondent in London received per Amazonas. It will be seen that English diplomacy has for the moment succeeded in postponing any further complications on the Luxemburg neutrality question. This invidiously placed Duchy is to be let alone as long as it behaves itself; meanwhile it protests that it has done so, and the neutrals, Russia excepted, are of the same opinion.

There is unusually little news of the Banda Oriental revolutionists or their doings. Aparicio is still at Cerro Largo, and Muñiz has scraped together 1000 men at Solis Grande. On his march he attempted to replenish his military chest by levying from the unfortunate inhabitants on his route this year's Contribucion Directa and other taxes. The Government collector will no doubt also exact his pound of flesh, so between the two stools, ricketty as they both are, the rural population, of which so large a proportion is foreign, comes to the ground. Nothing further has transpired as to the peace negotiations, or Don B. Mitre's mission to the leader of the revolution.

We have a letter from our Special Correspondent in France by the Amazonas. This unfortunate gentleman had been beating about from post to pillar for a time. He writes from Arras, but has probably returned to Amiens ere this. He says the hatred of the French towards the invaders is increasing, but the officers of the latter still openly announce their intention to fight till Doomsday if it should require that time to conquer France.

The river is rising in an extraordinary manner. On Thursday night the tide attained a great height, and along the beach at Palermo and other places millions of dead fish are strewn. The number and suddenness of the changes in the state of the river for the past six months has attracted much attention, but no satisfactory explanation of them has yet been put forward.

The greatest activity continues to prevail at the War Office and all the departments under its control. On Thursday a detachment of artillery under the command of Major Viejobueno left for Entre Rios; it numbered 250 men all told. Every day supplies of ammunition, clothing, hay, &c., are despatched up the river, and it is clear General Arredondo means to take the Entre Riano bull by the horns at once. The public are anxiously looking out for the commencement of operations in earnest, which cannot now be far off.

During the past year 300,000 letters and 200,000 newspapers passed through the post-office of Rosario.

The Tribuna of Paysandu publishes full particulars of the murder of twelve or thirteen people at a place called Tres Arboles, supposed to be by Blanco. Among the victims was an Englishman, named John Martin, two Frenchmen and three other foreigners.

Colonel Ordonez, Oriental Minister of War, left Paysandu in the flagship Coquimbo on Tuesday for Mercedes.

The Saturno steamer has altered her time of sailing; she now makes two trips a week between Montevideo and Salto, calling at this port.

H. M. S. Cracker, Captain Dennistown, arrived in port yesterday morning. We had a visit during the day from several of her officers to inspect the Sedan relics, also from some of the Gladiator's officers; the latter ship is at Montevideo. We salute Captains Bedingfield and Denistown and their officers. The former Commander of the Cracker Post Captain Fawkes, is now on the half-pay list.

The Telegrafo publishes a notice of great importance to ship captains, to the effect that the buoy formerly at the entrance to the Paranagua channel in the port of Parana has been removed.

The mortality returns for Tuesday Wednesday amount to 64, of whom 12 foreigners and 52 natives: there were 35 infants and 29 adults, and of the latter four had passed 80 years. These returns give an average of 65 per mil per annum of the population, against 25 per mil in London. It is manifest how much we stand in need of sanitary improvements.

We understand that the shark lately captured in the harbor of Montevideo was of the hammer-headed species, the least formidable kind of this finny monster.

The steamer Marina of the Glasgow line arrived at Montevideo yesterday morning; she brings no later news.

The Hipparchus brought a large number of passengers to this port, and a very valuable cargo, a great portion of it being railway iron. She is being discharged by Messrs. Dowse & Co., a new lighterage firm.

The opera company of the Colon Theatre, which has been performing for some months in Rio Janeiro with considerable success, returned here in the Amazonas, so we may hope to hear our old favourites again.

The following improvement in the transmission of the mails from England by the Bordeaux packets is suggested in a letter to the Times. If the idea can be carried out English merchants will gain one day, as the mail at present closes in London on the 22nd. The following is the letter referred to:—

"Could not the next Peninsular and Oriental boat, which leaves Southampton on the 24th, take mails to Lisbon, which meeting the Bordeaux steamer there and putting them on board, or a steam tug could be sent outside Lisbon to meet the Southampton boat, receive the mails, and transfer them to the French steamer? No doubt all this can yet be arranged if the Peninsular and Oriental Company would telegraph to Bordeaux and settle it with the French Post-office. In that case merchants could write until the 23rd ins., and Germany and Belgium could also look to this route.

"Y."

The Hipparchus spoke the Spirit of the Dawn, from Liverpool to Valparaiso on the 3rd inst. in Lat. 3.30 N. and Long. 27.24 W., out 28 days. The Mary Rich spoke the Sirede from Baltimore to M. Video on the 2nd inst. in Lat. 13.5, and Long. 32.20, out 31 days.

Preparations are afoot in M. Video to have a gay Carnival this year: two new Comparsas are mentioned; the Widowers and Volunteers of Love.

The M. Videan police have begun killing the dogs, as usual, with strychnine; 85 were killed on Wednesday.

One of the "letters from the battlefield" which we reproduced yesterday appeared with a wrong date: instead of Dec. 1870 it should have been Dec. 1869.

Daring robberies are now of everyday occurrence in Montevideo, even in broad daylight. On Wednesday at 7 p.m. the Captain of the Jacuby was stopped at the corner of Calles Washington and Patagones, by three robbers, who gagged him and took his watch and 16$ in gold.

The French packet has brought 130 passengers.

The Ariadne leaves M. Video to-day. The Palestine leaves B. Ayres to-day for Bahia and Glasgow.

A colleague says that amongst the 'curiosities' to be exhibited at the Cordoba Exhibition is a blind man, who was born in that unhappy state, but is, nevertheless, a first rate carpenter. We hope the blind carpenter's permission will be asked before he is held up to the gaze of the public as a curiosity.

The suicide of Don Jose Olguin, an old and well known merchant in Mendoza, is announced.

There were no fewer than six failures of more or less importance in Rosario last week.

The Capital of Rosario remarks in a late issue that important news and documents relating to the material interests of this country have to be taken from the STANDARD. Our colleague's remarks are more immediately induced by the fact that the report of the Government Committee on the books of the Central Argentine Railway was only to be found in our columns, none of our colleagues having taken any notice of it.

Our office was again crowded yesterday by visitors to inspect the Sedan relics. Every grade of society seems to take a deep interest in those waifs and strays from the battle field. The bench, the bar, church, army and navy, the commercial and financial communities all were represented by our visitors yesterday. It is curious that but few of our French or German friends have as yet inspected Mr Cranwell's collection.

There is a project on foot for paving the city, or part of it, with wood. We have been promised a specimen of the blocks to be used; they are, we believe rendered indestructible by some chemical process.

Mr. Daws, of 86 Calle Piedad, has some numbers of the Times of the 19th ult. on sale. Papers of this date are scarce in town, so early visitors to No. 86 have the best chance.

The Times is now recognised as the best medium through which French emigrés in London can communicate with their friends shut up in Paris.—The advertising columns of the Thunderer are filled with affectionate letters of this kind in French and English. We select two: it would puzzle the dearest of dear 'amies' or 'amis' to make out what that addressed to Half moon means:—

"Halfmoon.—We have heard, and we write Halfmoon two in order that he assists.

"Gustave de Rothschild.—Toutes en excellenté santé—Lucie, Aline, Juliette, Laure, et toute famille. Regois toutes tes chéres lettres; derniére datée 10 Dec. Voeux pour tous—Cecile, 15 Dec.

It it believed that Dr. Carril, Governor of San Juan, will be sent to Congress as senator for that province.

The Transandine Telegraph line will be opened to Rio Cuarto on the 25th inst. Mr. Clark's letter to General Mitre respecting this enterprise has attracted much notice.

Mr. D. B. Mansfield has been appointed Professor of English in the National College of Santiago del Estero.

THE ACCIDENT AT 11 DE SETIEMBRE.

Once Station, 20th Jan.

To the Editors.

Permit me to rectify a statement in yesterday's STANDARD about the death of a Neapolitan, who along with 9 other Italians threw himself from the train after it had started. Everbody on the platform saw the efforts to prevent them made by the employés of the station, who were thrown to the ground by the men so imprudently jumping from the cars. How can you attach blame to men who actually risk their own lives to save those of the passengers? So far from our people being negligent in such matters it is remarkable that this is the first accident of the kind which has occurred at this station since the opening of the Railway, in 1857. Regretting that you should so hastily have allowed the statement in question to appear in your columns, I beg of you in fairness to publish this rectification.

Manuel Moreno, Station-master.

ON 'CHANGE.

Jan. 20th, 1871.

Ounces	400
Sovereigns	122½
Patacones	25
National Bonds	65

The Bond market continues firm, prices for cash opened and closed at 65. For January 31st 20,000 opening at 65¼ and closing at 65⅜. The turn in the Bond market appears to be maintained. The National Government has bought the steamers Pampa and Rosetti, but instead of paying for them in bonds has given treasury notes at three and six months; when this was known on 'Change it had a decidedly beneficial effect on the market, and as it is very generally believed that the Government will not negotiate these bonds but return them to Congress, the bulls feel quite sanguine the market will go up.

Exchange rules very firm, bills were offered a 50¼, and on Antwerp at 5.32, not much passed takers waiting for a higher rate.

The English mail bags for the Amazone have remained behind this time, and there are no English papers later than the 20th, the letters have also remained behind.

The Board of Directors of the Transandine Telegraph Company held a meeting to-day and named a committee of two to wait on the Government for the purpose of arranging the working in connection with the two lines. Some shares were offered to-day at 25 per cent. premium. The Committee has been changed. Mr. Isaac replaces M. Pequin and Mr. Maveroff replaces M. Piaggio.

The Bolsa meeting was held to-day; 18 per cent. dividend declared and new board elected.

There were some alarming rumours from Montevideo to-day to the effect that General Muniz with 3000 men was advancing on the city. The Bolsa telegram gave the following—paper 10⅝, Home Debt 34, 7000 American hides at 64¾. Some contracts for the rivers spoken of. $8 offered for flour. Arrivals—steamer Marina from Glasgow. Cadiz—Veloce. Cardiff—Estrella. Montreal—Obbus. Antwerp—Lilels, Fish, Martha. Bordeaux—Nuevo Montolli. A contract with the saladero of Sampago at Mercedes is reported. Hides 42½, tallow 16, coal buyers at 10 pats.

There is nothing of importance in the wool market. Brokers report the Plaza to-day the same as in mid winter, and consignees of vessels find it impossible to get bales. One vessel is now two months waiting—200 bales.

The Transandine Telegraph Company will open their line from this city to Rio Cuarto on the 25th inst. The offices of the Company for the receipt of messages will be located in Calle San Martin, alongside the National Government Telegraph office, in the house of Fusoni and Maveroff.

Santiago Rocca, of the firm of Geronino and Santiago Rocca, declares by notice in the Tribuna that he is not one of the parties referred to in a list of protested bills published in our columns. We believe the bill in question is supposed to have been signed by Santiago Rourke, as nearly all the bills in question have imaginary English names.

In the annual report of the London and River Plate Bank respecting the change in the Directory there is the following:—"Mr. H. A. Wyatt Smith, late Consulting Director at Buenos Ayres, and for many years resident there, having returned to England, the Directors have gladly availed themselves of the opportunity to appoint him a Director in London, and they now ask your confirmation of this appointment. Mr. W. Thompson, a resident merchant, has replaced Mr. Smith in the office of Consulting Director at Buenos Ayres. In the general balance sheet there are many items of interest. The gross profit of the year, after making provision for bad and doubtful debts is £123,062 8s 6d, and the net profit for year ending 30th Sept., 1870, is £79,256 16s 3d. Under the head of deposits and amounts due on accounts current we find the very large figure £2,221,635 16s 1d, and local bills discounted, bills receivable, current accounts, and other securities £3,991,772.

The bank buildings are valued so—

Bank building Buenos Ayres	£21.400 4 5
Do do Montevideo	21.033 5 8

The total expenses of the bank for the year amount to £42,620 sterling, which appear moderate enough, considering the large staff and numerous branches of the bank.

Messrs. Salvador G. Gomez and Alberto A. Halbach, under the name, style and firm of S. G. Gomez and Co., have opened an American importing and exporting house in this market. Mr. Gomez was for many years in business in the States, and Mr. Halbach is well and favorably known here, being influentially connected. We understand that the new firm is about to conclude a contract with the Government and the Municipality for the paving of the streets with wooden blocks, a system which has met with much acceptation abroad. The offices of the new firm are at 185 Calle Bolivar.

The French steamer Picardie and the Glasgow steamer Palestine, both cleared for Europe this afternoon, taking fair cargoes, and both taking mails.

The Provincial Legislature will in the ensuing week discuss some very important measures, viz:

The proposed railway from Buenos Ayres to Rosario.

The sale of public lands on the frontier.

The proposed construction of tramways in the country districts.

There are strong reasons for supposing that this year nearly all the country towns in this province will be connected by cheap narrow gauge tramways, which after all will be an improvement on the camp diligences.

The British gunboat Cracker, and the United States man-of-war Portsmouth, have both come into port. The Cracker will probably remain here for a month.

On Sunday a very valuable piece of land alongside the the Promessi Sposi will be sold by auction by Mr. Irygoyen. The site is alongside the Cinco Esquinas, and in the once famed Puyredon quinta.

Tallow—200 bordalesas from graseria. 13¾. 140 do do, same price,

Pine—A Portland cargo sold at 34 pats. on board; also the cargo of the Ella, from St. Mary, at 47 pats.

Sugar—500 barrels Refined, 83 despatched. 100 do do, 81.

500 bordalesas French Wine, 680.

Salt—3,000 fanegas Cadiz at 7½ and 8 rls. on board.

Rice—200 bags India at 27.

Kerosene—250 boxes at 12½ rls despatched.

Coal—200 tons Glasgow at 11½ on board. A large sale effected to-day on the Bolsa on reserved terms.

The National Telegraph line is progressing rapidly. The Government has paid Mr. Maveroff 39,000 pats. on construction account.

There are 1,034 azotea houses anp 1,105 ranchos in Rosario, according to M. Llambi's tables, which yield a monthly rent of 44,909 Bolivian dollars.

MANY CHIDREN WOULD BE SATED much suffering if, when listless, fretting, and losing strength, without any particular disease manifesting itself; they were given a dose or two or Dr. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge. This excellent tonic will restore the appetite, give tone to the stomach, and strengthen the digestive organs, and so bring back the cheerfulness and vivacity of the child. Should Worms be the source of trouble, as they very generally are, the Vermifuge utterly destroys and purges the system of them and their nests, and thus renders their reproduction less likely. No remedy could be kept in the house better adapted to meet a very large number of ordinary ailments of children, or to save them from more suffering. Sold everywhere.

THE GREAT NOURISHING ORGAN must do its whole duty or general debility will be the consequences. Food must be properly digested and assimilated, otherwise the blood will be poor, the circulation languid, the body strengthless, and the mind in a partial stupor. Rouse the latent energy of the stomach and keep the bowels free with Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, and a rapid increase of physical vigor and intellectual energy will be experienced. Their success in cases of general debility is proverbial; and as the blood needs enriching and vitalizing in cases of this kind, the auxiliary aid of the great detergent Bristol's Sarsaparilla, will qe found extremely useful. 16

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maná & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes alerady mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to esch depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operatious, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum rom Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. p. ⅋) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules estabished by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

NOTICE—In the advertisements of some makers of Portable Engines, &c., great stress is laid by them upon the fact of their having obtained a large number of Medals and Prizes at Agricultural Shows and other Exhibitions.

Exhibitions, both in England and abroad, offering Medals and Prizes for Portable Engines and Agricultural Machinery, without any efficient test of real value, have multiplied enormously during the last few years.

C. and S. do not as a rule attend any but a few of the principal shows, and whenever they have entered into fair competition they have invariably maintained their position as the best makers of this class of Machinery.

VILLA SARMIENTO
A Suburb of Cordoba.
Building Lots $f.100 each.

This charming suburb commands a fine view of the city of Cordoba in the low ground and the Sierras in the distance. It is proposed to establish here the new water-works of the Aniasacate Aqueduct as projected by the Engineer of the Province, Col. Thompson.

The air is peculiarly salubrious and invigorating, and the site is destined to be one of the favorite summer-residences in the Republic. Villa Sarmiento comprises 70 cuadras (or 140 acres) half of which are already taken by English merchants and native families of Buenos Ayres.

There are two plazas, called Colon and 25 de Mayo, and th streets are 20 yards wide. The blocks are 100x100 varas, and each lot for building is 20x60, price $f.100.

With the growing importance of Cordoba this locality will rise greatly in value, and the site is so well suited for country houses, coupled with the abundanbe of lime and timber, that families can have a delightful residence, within 2 days journey of Buenos Ayres, at a mere nominal cost.

The undersigned beg to inform the Public, that they have concluMded arrangements with Messrs. JAMES HENNESSY and CO., To receive regaar and constant supplies of their well-known Brnds of Cognac.

The first shipment has arrived, per "Suffren, and is now on Sale.

This Brandy is so well known, and so fully appreciated by the English Consumers, that anything we could say to recommend it would be superfluous, and we would therefore simply draw attention to the following Table of Exports of Cognac from Charente to Great Britain, for the twelve months ending the 30th of June 1869:—

	Puncheons.	Cases.
James Hennessy and Co....	9,452	214,886
Martell	8,340	113,654
Olard, Dupuy, and Co.	2,668	8,541
Jules Duret and Co.	456	6,371
Jules Robin and Co.....	366	6.247
Sundries.....	13,034	198,042
Total.....	34,316	547,740

For the year ending 21st December, 1869 Hennessy exported to Great Britain 10,513 Puncheons, and 282,768 Cases, being more than a third part of the total exports for the same destination.

In Great Britain, in Australia, and in India Hennessy's Brandy commands the preference, and fetches a higher price than any other Brand.

As a protection against falsifications, our name is attached to Messrs. Hennessy's Trade Label.
